

Grand Contest in the Forest

Introduction: How would you feel if your teacher announces that there would be fancy dress competition or singing and dancing competition, on children's day? Am sure you all will be very excited and start discussing the dress you are going to wear or the song you are going to sing right? So, in this story also we see the same excitement as there was going to be a grand contest in the forest.

