

The Country Child

Summary:

The poem "The Country Child" is about a country child who wished to live in the busy town. He is bored of his quiet country life. He tells us about his life in country. His house is near a wood on a muddy road. He wished to live in a street. The lanes in the country are so quiet that he wished someone to live near him. He stays in such a quiet area that he has no one to play with. He also says that the trees in his country are so high and tall that he would be all alone if there weren't any birds and flowers.

He wished to live in a town to see all the trams going down the street and the street full of twinkling light. Also, he wished to see wonderful bright nights with twinkling lights on the street.
