

IT'S CHANGE...

Introduction:

The poet, Emma Gorrie here, in this poem has put forward the point of view through a little school girl who is worried about the change taking place in the environment and causing much to study. The speaker doesn't want to go to school and shares her concern to her mother.